H C Wraxall and Co Ltd – One Tonne Bags

All Wraxall's One Tonne bags/FIBCs (Flexible Intermediate Bulk Containers) are new and unused at point of bagging.

There are two kinds of one tonne bulk bags in general usage for roofing shingle: Multi-trip and Single trip

Multi-trip: All our bags are multi-trip bags, so called because they are emptied via a discharge spout. The spout allows for a controlled safe release of the contents without the need to pierce the bag. They are safety rated 6:1. This means they have been tested by being loaded and lifted 6 times with a 1000kg weight and loaded and lifted once with a 6000kg weight. They must exceed these standards to be granted a certificate.

All roofing shingle bagged at our depot is lifted once from the hopper weigh plate directly onto the lorry trailer that will transport it. The term 'multi-trip' does not mean that our bags have been used before, nor do we advise re-use.

Safe handling and lifting instructions together with a test certificate are clearly displayed in a label attached to each bag. The lifting loops are reinforced, and continue down the sides of the bag. Seams are also reinforced. We do not recommend a single point lift. Bags should be lifted by even spread 4-point lift, with the loops kept in a vertical position.

The bag manufacturer's details are listed on each bag and where appropriate we will arrange for a representative of the manufacturer to visit site to advise on safe lifting and usage. If you require any more information or specific guidance please contact our office.

Single trip bags: are not used by H C Wraxall and Co Ltd for conveying roofing shingle. These bags generally last only one trip. This is not because of concerns with the structural safety of the bag. Since they have a flat base with no discharge spout, they are normally slit open to release their contents, effectively destroying the bag.

All IBCs remain the property of the customer once sold. H C Wraxall and Co Ltd do not accept returned used bags.
